Mop up your widdle, cops order pisser

A MAN caught pissing outside a railway station was given a mop and told to clean it up by police.

British Transport Police doled out the punishment after it was reported at Worcester Foregate Street on Sunday afternoon.

Sharing a picture of the clean-up, officers said the man's actions were "unacceptable" – especially since the station's toilets had been open.

In a series of posts on Twitter, police said there was no legislation for the mop and bucket, just "common sense".

"I don't see why someone should walk through or clean up someone's else's mess," it said.

It also said his travel was refused under a bylaw of the Transport Act 2000, which allows cops to prevent people using the railways if they are intoxicated or in possession of booze.

NATO killing most civilians

PRO-government forces, including Nato allies, killed more civilians in Afghanistan in the first half of 2019 than insurgents did, UN figures show.

It is the first time in the 18-year conflict that this has occurred and comes amid a ferocious U.S. air campaign against the Taliban.

Some 717 civilians were killed by Afghan and Nato-led forces, compared to 531 by militants, the UN said.

The data comes as Washington continues to seek a swift end to the war by holding talks with the Taliban.

CAMPBELL: I DON'T WANT TO BE IN CORBYN'S LABOUR

ALASTAIR Campbell says he no longer wants to be a Labour member, claiming the party is facing an "existential crisis" due to poor leadership.

Tony Blair's ex-spin doctor had planned to challenge the decision to kick him out after he admitted voting Lib-Dem.

But he said he did not want to return because Labour had been "taken over" and it was "time to stop pretending" it was the party it used to be. Shadow Climate Minister Danielle Rowley said that his decision was disappointing. Mr Campbell told BBC Radio 4's Today programme Mr Corbyn "has not led on Brexit" or "the anti-Semitism issue", and the leadership "kid themselves that there's a policy agenda that the country out there is even aware of".

Ruthless

He added: "What you have to do in opposition to win against a ruthless Tory Party, you have to do far more than is being done now. And we have to be honest about that."

He said he feared Prime Minister Boris Johnson was trying to "clear the decks towards a general election" because he believed the Labour leader's "weakness" made a Conservative victory more likely.

Mr Campbell continued: "He thinks, probably rightly, the country has decided it will not put Jeremy Corbyn into office."

NONCE COPS 'BROKE LAW'

Pressure on police after judge says search warrant 'obtained unlawfully'

TOP cops have come under pressure to investigate the way officers handled the probe into claims of a murderous VIP paedophile ring.

And in a damning assessment, former High Court judge Sir Richard Henriques, who in 2016 ran a review of the probe, said he believes warrants to search the properties of high-profile figures were "obtained unlawfully".

Fantasia

His review found more than 40 areas of concern stemming from the actions of officers involved in the Met's £2million Operation Midland, which was based on the lies told by Carl Beech, a fantasist who was formerly known as Nick.

It ran from 2014 to 2016 and closed without a single arrest being made.

Former MP Harvey Proctor, whose home was raided in connection with the probe, said that he was "pleased" with Sir Richard's comments and there should be a criminal investigation into Operation Midland.

By ROY DURRIDGE
news@sundaysport.co.uk

He called for the Met Police and the Home Secretary to set up an independent investigation, adding: "I take no satisfaction to having my view that the Metropolitan Police force were wrong in the way that they investigated 'Nick'."

The Independent Office for Police Conduct said last week that no officers would face misconduct charges over the case.

In a comment piece in the Daily Mail, Sir Richard restates his opinion that the warrants authorising the searches of the homes of Lord Edwin Brammall, Lady Diana Brittan – widow of former Home Secretary Leon Brittan – and Mr Proctor "were obtained unlawfully".

Sir Richard wrote that three applications for search warrants stated Beech's allegations had been consistent, but he had not found that to be the case.

He added: "I remain unable to conclude that every officer acted with due diligence and in good faith. I concluded in 2016 – and I remain of the view – that the officers responsible for the three applications did not in fact fully believe that there were reasonable grounds to believe Beech's allegations."

The allegations of Beech to Wiltshire Police in 2012 were "inconsistent" with those made to the Metropolitan Police in 2014 and with blogs published by Beech in 2014, he said.

Shocking

"Thus the course of justice was perverted with shocking consequences. A criminal probe should surely follow."

Beech, 51, was last week sent down for 18 years for 12 counts of perverting the course of justice and one of fraud.

He had told the Metropolitan Police repeated falsehoods during hours of interviews in which he claimed to have been abused by high-profile figures from the worlds of politics, the armed forces and security services.

Bomber's bro on murder rap

THE younger brother of Manchester Arena bomber Salman Abedi will stand trial in November charged with murdering the 22 victims of the attack.

Hashem Abedi, 22, yesterday appeared at Oxford Crown Court by prison video link for a preliminary hearing.

Mr Justice Sweeney set a trial date of November 5 at the Old Bailey in London.

The defendant, of no fixed address, was remanded in custody.

Hashem Abedi was extradited to the UK earlier this month after being detained in Libya shortly after the May 2017 suicide bombing in which hundreds were injured.

Mr Abedi, who was born in Manchester, is also charged with attempted murder and of conspiring to cause explosions.

Council scraps swearing ban

A COUNCIL has scrapped a ban on SWEARING.

Salford City Council has decided not to continue with the outlawing of foul and abusive language in Salford Quays.

Comedian Mark Thomas, who has protested over the use of Public Spaces Protection Orders, said the swearing ban was "ridiculous" and it should never have been imposed.

It is understood the decision was made after discussions with locals and workers in the area, the Local Democracy Reporting Service said.

The original order was introduced three years ago in a bid to curb anti-social behaviour.

Those who breached the order by swearing in public spaces could be issued with an on-the-spot fine of up to £1,000.

BORIS STANDS FIRM ON BACKSTOP

BORIS Johnson has clashed with his Irish counterpart over the backstop in their first phone call since the Tory MP became Prime Minister.

Bojo told Taoiseach Leo Varadkar he will approach Brexit negotiations in "a spirit of friendship" but reiterated that any deal must see the backstop abolished, Downing Street said.

But Mr Varadkar told him that the emergency measure to prevent a hard border on the island was "necessary as a consequence" of UK decisions, the Irish government said.

The call came after the pound fell to a two-year low as Mr Johnson's new government hardened its tone over the likelihood of a no-deal Brexit.

Their first discussion, nearly a week after Mr Johnson became PM, also came after allegations the PM was snubbing the Taoiseach.

No 10's account of the call said Mr Johnson warned that the UK will be leaving the European Union by the October 31 deadline "no matter what".

But Dublin said: "On Brexit, the Taoiseach emphasised to the Prime Minister the backstop was necessary as a consequence of decisions taken in the UK."

How former PM might look on Strictly

FINALLY, somebody appreciates Theresa May's talents...

Bosses at BBC show Strictly Come Dancing are "falling over themselves" to sign up the former Prime Minister for this year's series.

Mrs May, who was forced to resign for making a Horlicks of Brexit, became a laughing-stock last year when she tried to dance during a visit to Africa, using moves that became known as "The Maybot".

But Theresa took it all in good spirit and danced onto the stage at the Tory Party conference to the strains of Abba's Dancing Queen.

Lamentable

A Strictly source said: "That move showed to everyone that despite being a lamentable Prime Minister, Theresa does have a sense of humour and the head honchos reckon she'd be the biggest signing ever."

"We've had Ann Widdecombe on before, of course, so it's not such a huge leap to think that Theresa would have a go too."

"Who knows, with a few weeks on training from a professional, she may be quite a good dancer under that stiff exterior.

"And we've got more chance of getting her than Jacob Rees-Mogg now he's been promoted to the Cabinet."

"Now that would really have been a coup."

Mrs May has vowed to stay in the Commons and continue serving her constituents in Maidenhead, Kent, from the backbenches – unlike Tony Blair and David Cameron, who scurried off to cash in on their time as PM the second they had left Downing Street.

JULIA'S LOOKIN' PEAKY

PEAKY Blinders creator Steven Knight has hinted Hollywood megastar JULIA ROBERTS could appear in the new series of the BBC gangster series.

Knight addressed rumours that Pretty Woman icon Julia (right), 51, was interested in a part in the show, saying: "I don't know where that got out, but, yeah, fingers crossed on that."

The writer also said Line Of Duty actor Stephen Graham, 45, is the person he most wants to make a guest appearance, but denied he would play gangster Al Capone.

A$AP rocks up to deny fight rap

ASAP Rocky (above) has appeared in court in Stockholm to deny assault.

The US rapper, real name Rakim Mayers, is on trial accused of assaulting a 19-year-old Afghan refugee in the Swedish capital a month ago.

Two members of the 30-year-old's entourage are also on trial and have pleaded not guilty.

ASAP Rocky and the two other suspects have been held in prison since the alleged incident on June 30, claim they were acting in self defence.

Their detention brought a personal intervention from US President Donald Trump, after a request from Kanye West and Kim Kardashian.

The US President spoke to his Swedish counterpart by phone on the matter but his pleas fell on deaf ears.

ASAP Rocky and the two co-defendants claim they acted in self defence.

The alleged victim, who is not being named, is claiming damages of £12,000.

Sex workers fear Met hotline will boost vigilantes

SEX worker campaign groups fear a new hotline for informing police of suspected brothel activity will encourage vigilantes.

The Metropolitan Police is encouraging residents to use the number to report sightings of sex workers, suspected brothels or posters for erotic massages.

It follows campaigning from community group CleanUp Ilford Lane, who have been protesting against a concentration of street sex workers in east London's Redbridge borough.

But Laura Watson, a spokeswoman for the English Collective of Prostitutes said: "It's really shocking actually. "For the institution of the Met to be calling for this action - it gives a go-ahead for vigilantes. "It encourages people to go after sex workers."

Our maidens tip England to win back Ashes

URN-BELIEVABLE: England were trounced Down Under in 2017

By SIMON DEAN simon@sundaysport.co.uk

THE 2019 Ashes is fast approaching, with England unlikely to need extra motivation to win back the urn after defeat Down Under in 2017.

Joe Root's side were dominated from start to finish during the five-match series, losing four matches including two by an innings and one by 10 wickets.

But England have been more successful on home soil, winning the last four to take place in England, and will be looking to make it five in a row this summer.

Glued

The action begins at Edgbaston tomorrow and keen cricketers Jess Impiazzi and Emma Green will be glued to their tellys.

Emma laughed: "Even though I'm Welsh and rugby is my game, really, I love to watch cricket and support England when they're playing."

And Jess said: "I love cricket. Some people say that it's slow and boring but there's nothing wrong with that."

"Besides, I love the idea of a load of hunky Aussies coming over here to watch it!"

SIX YEARS FOR £¾ MILLION DEAD DAD BENEFITS CHEAT

AN amateur actress who stole £740,000 in benefits and pension payments by claiming her dead father was alive has been jailed for nearly six years.

Ethel McGill, 68, of Run-corn, Cheshire, continued claiming her late father Robert Dennison's war pension and benefits after his death in 2004.

She even got a friend to lie in her father's bed covered with blankets to pretend to be him when officials made a visit to her home.

The "sophisticated fraudster" also feigned dementia and mobility issues for more than two decades to steal money from the public purse, but was caught out when DWP investigators filmed her moving around and even driving despite claiming she needed a wheelchair.

McGill arrived in a wheelchair when she appeared at Liverpool Crown Court, hiding her face with a pack of incontinence pads (right).

She was sentenced to 70 months in jail after pleading guilty to 14 fraud charges.

Judge Steven Everett told her: "Your devious behaviour, with very little remorse, has caught up with you and now you will have to pay the penalty."

He also criticised authorities for not realising Mr Dennison had died in 2004.

Stephen Pendered, of the CPS, said: "This is the largest case of benefit fraud by a single person that I have prosecuted."

"Not content with receiving her father's pensions, housing and tax benefits under false pretences, Ethel McGill made good use of her amateur dramatic skills by feigning dementia to succeed in her own fraudulent benefit claims.

"The CPS will now endeavour to ensure taxpayers get some of their money back by pursuing McGill under the Proceeds of Crime Act."

LOVE Island host Caroline Flack (above) admitted she had "a little wobble" as she read out the names of the latest winners of the show.

Her voice appeared to break as she told Amber Gill and Greg O'Shea that they had defeated Molly-Mae Hague and Tommy Fury.

Caroline posted on Instagram: "I had a little wobble tonight as I felt so emotional ... I truly loved that Amber won."

She also shared a photo of herself with Amber, captioned "The Queen" and another of herself with fan favourite Ovie Soko, writing: "And life is complete".

In another video shared online, Caroline has her arm round Tommy.

Clutching a glass of wine and with his shirt unbuttoned, Tommy says: "I'm feeling good, I'm feeling electric, I'm absolutely excited."

Man, 86, held

A PENSIONER has been arrested on suspicion of murder after human remains believed to be his missing wife were found in a septic tank.

The grim discovery was made in the Worcestershire village of Kempsey on July 12.

Police said the 86-year-old man - named locally as David Venables - remains in custody.

His wife Brenda disappeared in May 1982 from their home. Her husband claimed at the time: "I just woke up to find that she had gone."

It is understood the remains were discovered after the tank was drained during routine maintenance.

Neighbours said they saw officers looking at a septic tank in the grounds of the home where Mrs Venables was living when she disappeared.

LIES: Brit accuser is led away by police as the freed men celebrate (below)

A TEENAGE British girl falsely claimed she'd been gang-raped by a group of 12 Israel youths in Ayia Napa because one of them REFUSED to have sex with her, it was claimed last night.

The 19-year-old woman was arrested on Sunday and reportedly admitted making up the story about being attacked by the youths at a hotel in the Cypriot resort town on July 17.

The seven remaining Israeli youths remaining in custody were freed shortly afterwards and returned to Israel to a heroes' welcome.

Police released five of the Israeli teens last week after finding no evidence linking them to the alleged crime.

Nir Yeslovich, lawyer for four of the lads, said: "The woman said she complained to the police because they filmed her, but she never said she didn't want to be filmed."

Hurt

"She said that she was angry with one of the teens who entered the room and refused to have intercourse with her after she offered it."

"She was angered and hurt by that... That's what she said."

Sources say the case began to unravel on Saturday evening when the main investigator, Marius Christiano,

By CLAIRE NEWTON

news@sundaysport.co.uk

went to the hotel where the British teenager was staying at with her family and confronted her with all the DNA evidence as well videos of her having seemingly consensual sex with the accused men.

The young woman struggled to provide credible answers and eventually confessed to having fabricated the story about assault, it's claimed.

"Everything was consensual," the woman apparently said to the investigator. "I went into their room because I meant to have sex with them."

The girl appeared in court yesterday where the case against her was adjourned until August 7th.

SIGHTINGS of the Loch Ness Monster in 2019 are heading for a record after the 12th person this year claimed to have seen the beast.

Some experts believe the warm weather is forcing Nessie (above) to the surface more often.

The latest glimpse came last Thursday when Richard Cobb, from Bradford, spotted a mysterious shape in the waters.

Father-of-three Mr Cobb, 43, who was on holiday with his brother Colin, 46, said: "I know what a boat wake looks like. But there were no boats around when this thing surfaced."

"I never believed in Nessie but now I'm not so sure. What I saw was weird. It was a dead calm night when this thing broke the surface."

"I couldn't make out a head but there was something in the middle that was different to the rest of it."

LIZ Hurley burst into the national consciousness in 1994 when he turned up at the Four Weddings and a Funeral premiere with then-boyfriend Hugh Grant.

At the time she was a little-known actress but she stole the show by wearing a frock held together with what looked like safety pins.

It became known as "That Dress". In the ensuing years, Liz became a star in her own right and sensibly jettisoned foppish Grant after he was found with his cock in a two-bob Los Angeles whore's face.

Liz is now 54 and, arguably more gorgeous now.

What's more, she allows her fans to gaze on her ripening beauty in a string of social media photos, some of which are taken – perhaps troublingly – by her son.

Earlier this month she teased her fans as she showed off her stunning body naked in a pool.

So is Liz getting fitter as she gets older? Have a look at these snaps and make up your own minds...

Singer Katy is a copycat, jury decides

KATY Perry copied her 2013 song Dark Horse from a Christian rap song, a court has ruled.

The singer (above) gave evidence in the week-long U.S. trial, denying she had ever heard the 2009 song Joyful Noise by Flame before recording her track.

She even offered to perform Dark Horse for the court room when her lawyers were unable to play the song for jurors because of a broken speaker system.

But despite the joke, the jury ruled against Katy.

During the trial, her team described the beat of both songs as "commonplace", arguing that because of that, Flame – real name Marcus Tyrone Gray – could not claim copyright.

But lawyers for Flame claimed that Katy and her team had "copied an important part" of his song, and mentioned the fact that Katy, 34, started her career as a Christian artist.

Damages are yet to be settled.

SICK: Megabucks Epstein abused a string of young girls at his home

COPS found photos of naked young girls on display throughout the luxury home of multi-millionaire paedophile Jeffrey Epstein.

Many of the photos were of the same underage girls interviewed by detectives as they built a case against the controversial financier in 2005, it was reported.

Clocks in his garage and library were discovered to have hidden cameras that had filmed some of the underage girls inside the house in Palm Beach, Florida.

According to incident reports from the Palm Beach Police Department, Epstein — a former associate and friend of Prince Andrew — told at least one of his underage victims that child model Nada Marcinkova, was his “sex slave”.

Multiple girls also state that Epstein made them engage in sexual acts with Marcinkova, which eventually turned into threesomes with himself and the model. "Epstein had purchased Investigators say Marcinkova would have been underage during most of the alleged incidents described by the victims to Recarey.

She was no older than 16 when she and another underage victim were allegedly forced to stimulate each other "manually, orally, and with toys" while Epstein watched and pleased himself.

Epstein, 66, was convicted in 2008 of procuring a girl under 18 of prostitution and of soliciting a prostitute.

He is in custody now facing fresh charges of sex trafficking and conspiracy charges which he denies.

He was found semi-conscious in his New York prison cell on Thursday with injuries to his neck in an unexplained incident.

Neither a suicide attempt or an assault have been ruled out by prison authorities.

Top boffin claims that ALIENS were real reason for Iraq War

THE 2003 Iraq War was launched because Saddam Hussein had a secret 'Stargate' to an alien world, it's sensationally claimed.

Aussie boffin Dr Michael E. Salla believes the 'dodgy dossier' that George W. Bush and Tony Blair used as a pretext for invading the country was a cover for a wilder, even more unbelievable motive.

Salla reckons that aliens from the mysterious 10th Planet of the Solar System, Nibiru, had a long-running relationship with the people of Middle East.

Civilisation

In a paper called Exopolitical Perspective on the Pre-emptive War Against Iraq he says there is evidence for a long-term alien involvement in the area, dating back to the earliest days of the Sumerian civilisation that once dominated the fertile lands along the banks of the Euphrates.

He cites the claims by historian Zecharia Sitchin of the 'Nephilim', a group of 200 aliens who rebelled against their superiors, the 'Elohim', and then

DODGY: Bush and Blair

By JUSTIN DUNN
news@sundaysport.co.uk

interacted with – or even created – early civilisation on Earth.

These claims centre around the idea that Nibiru has a highly eccentric orbit that sometimes brings it close to Earth in an orbit between Mars and Jupiter, but most often leaves it lost in the outer Solar System.

The Nibiru hypothesis is partially supported by the work of astronomers Chad Trujillo and Scott Sheppard who in 2014 demonstrated the possibility of a large planetary body lurking on the outer reaches of the Solar System.

And Salla insists that the West were jealous of Saddam's access to ancient alien tech – so invaded Iraq to depose the tyrant and seize the Stargate, which was a portal to the mysterious 10th planet.

Salla claimed: "Bush recognised Hussein had very valuable relevant information concerning the ancient history of the planet."

"I think that was a big part of the reason why he went into Iraq – to stop Hussein from revealing this info and to also get control of it."

SCREW TWERKED FOR W**KING LAG

A FEMALE jail warder once twerked for a male prisoner while he had a WANK as part of a deal to get him to cough up a contraband razor, it's claimed in a lawsuit.

Former guard Manuel Calvelos alleges he was fired for blowing the whistle on such steamy behaviour at New York's infamous Rikers jail.

"Manuel had a legal obligation to report the illegal activities and corruption he witnessed within the Department of Correction, and he took that duty seriously," said his lawyer, Phillips Hines.

"Unfortunately, those who decided to terminate him do not."

Calvelos's supervisors wanted to improve the jail's statistics, including on assaults, as they silenced him, he says.

In the twerking incident in May 2017, a prison captain danced for a masturbating inmate to get a razor in the prisoner's possession, the suit alleges. Calvelos later reported three guards for smuggling in contraband and planting it on inmates after assaults on employees but the supervisors didn't follow up on the allegations, he claims.

A prison spokesman said the "allegations do not in any way represent the hardworking New York City correction officers who come to work every day dedicated to helping keep New Yorkers safe".

Joy in Ireland as Victorian dildo returns

A VICTORIAN dildo has finally returned home to Ireland.

The 19th century ivory sex toy was originally bought by an international collector from a County Meath auctioneer in 2017.

The deal left Shawna Scott, who runs online sex shop Sex Siopa, dejected.

She said: "It made my heart sink when it was sold. It just seemed like such an important part of Irish sexual history."

"Sometimes I think with Irish history, unless something is tied to the famine or 1916 it gets forgotten."

So she could scarcely believe her luck when she learned that what looked like the same dildo was up for auction again on Monday evening.

Ms Scott took to Twitter to solicit donations with a view to crowd-purchasing it for relocation to a museum in Ireland – and was successful.

The dildo, which is described on the auction site as an "ivory companion", is believed to have originated in China and to have been brought back to Ireland as a gift from husband to wife.

The ivory dates from the 1840s.

PUKKA'S OFF THE MENU FOR JAMIE

5 NEW JAMIE-ISMS

FAT-TONGUED telly cook Jamie Oliver has decided to stop using his famous catchphrases like 'pukka' and 'lovely jubbly'.

Jamie, 44, made his name as a cheeky cockernee happy 20 years ago when he starred in the TV show The Naked Chef.

His programmes were peppered with his catchphrases, which irritated his many critics, but they didn't stop him becoming one of the most successful television caterers of all time and selling millions of books.

But now the dad-of-five has admitted even he finds the catchphrases irritating, and has promised to never use them again.

He said: "I stopped it. Even I was finding it annoying."

Oliver has recently overseen the shut down of his restaurant group which included Jamie's Italian, Barbecoa and Fifteen with the loss of more than 1,000 jobs. The Essex man pumped £25m of his own cash into the business but could only save three of his 25 restaurants.

He said: "When it was all going wrong it was like a colander – the business was full of holes and there was nothing we could do to plug them."

SUMMER'S been a mixed bag so far but let's hope there's plenty of sunshine to come because when it gets warmer the girls have been wearing less and less.

Every park is crammed with babes showing off yards of leg and acres of bare midriff.

And, if you're very lucky, you'll spot the Holy Grail of a lass in short Daisy Duke shorts and a tight t-shirt that shows she's decided it's too hot to wear a bra.

So today we're bringing you the best models and celebs, dolled out in their hot weather finery.

Settle back, out a damp rag on your forehead and enjoy four pages of Babes in Shorts and T-shirts...

Randy snakes bring the house down

A COUPLE were left in shock after a pair of shagging PYTHONS smashed through their ceiling.

The ceiling gave way under the combined 40kg weight of the snakes as snake-catcher Matt Hagan tried to remove them.

The couple, who have not been named, had noticed the ceiling starting to crack as the two serpents thrashed about during sex and called in Mr Hagan.

When he tried to reach the five-metres long scrub pythons at the house in Cairns, north Queensland, the ceiling collapsed and the snakes fell through into the room below.

Snakes are known to plague Australians during mating season, often turning up in roof spaces.

Mr Hagan said: "Once they fell through all hell broke loose. I had to get down there and subdue the snakes very quickly."

SMOKIN':

FROM the moment a drug-riddled Whitney Houston was discovered drowned in a hotel bath seven years ago, fans have wondered how the superstar singer got so lost in a world of substance abuse.

Many laid the blame at the door of her cheating and abusive ex-husband, singer Bobby Brown, who would get high with the once seemingly clean-cut artist.

But an explosive documentary released last year has suggested that she may have been self-medicating in a bid to block out painful childhood memories.

The film Whitney by Scottish director Kevin Macdonald, revealed that the pop legend was sexually abused as a child by a female cousin.

It described how she struggled to get over her God-fearing mother's affair with a church minister, claimed her manager father stole money from her and had relatives admit giving her drugs well before she met bad boy Brown.

Record

The beautiful singer had seven consecutive US No.1s in the Eighties with hits including I Wanna Dance With Somebody and Saving All My Love For You, and scored a record ten-week run for a solo female artist at the top of the UK charts with I Will Always Love You.

Her death at just 48-years-old at the Beverly Hills Hilton in Los Angeles robbed popular music of one of its greatest talents.

Her incredible voice was a gift she inherited from mother Cissy Houston, 85, a backing vocalist for the likes of Elvis Presley and the aunt of legendary singer Dionne Warwick, 78.

While Cissy was away touring, her four children would be sent to stay with various friends or relatives, including Dionne's sister Dee Dee Warwick.

In the film it's alleged that Dee Dee, who died aged 63 in 2008 after a long addiction to drugs, sexually abused Whitney and her brother Gary.

Whitney's aunt and assistant, Mary Jones, recalled the moment Whitney revealed the attacks, which are said to have taken place between the ages of seven and nine.

She said: "She looked at me and said, 'Mary, I was molested at a young age. But it wasn't by a man — it was a woman.'"

"She had tears in her eyes. She says, 'Mommy don't know the things we went through'."

"I said, 'Well, maybe you need to tell her'. She said, 'No, my mother would hurt somebody if I told her who it was'."

which opened in cinemas last July, hinted that the reason she took her young daughter Bobbi Kristina on tour with her was because she did not want to risk leaving her with potential attackers.

But tragically, while Whitney thought she was keeping her daughter safe, it had the opposite effect.

Bobbi grew up in an adult world, witnessing the huge amounts of alcohol and illegal substances taken by her parents and uncles.

She followed their example, eventually suffering fatal brain damage aged 22.

Her unconscious body was found in a bath in 2015 in a horrifying echo of her mother's demise.

Whitney's sister-in-law and former manager Pat Houston revealed the corrosive effect her mother's lifestyle had on Bobbi Kristina.

She said: "Krisi took a knife and slashed her arms. She hated her mother. She even wrote

"She had tears rolling down her face, and I just hugged her."

Loyal Mary, who found the singer's body in the hotel bathtub, revealed the offender was Dee Dee — later confirmed by Gary, 61, a retired basketball player.

Archive footage in the film showed Whitney saying that what angers her most in the world is child abuse.

Whitney's brother Michael said: "The divorce really bothered her, it bothered me."

When she left the family home in New Jersey, she did not even tell Cissy her new address, and became closer to her dad.

It was to prove a poor decision by the self-confessed "daddy's girl" because John was the parent who really broke her heart.

Having put him on the payroll as her manager, earning £370,000 a year, John repaid that faith by stealing from her.

Gary said: "She found out about it, all the money he stole. She cut him off."

In retaliation John's entertainment company issued a lawsuit demanding £75million from Whitney in 2002. The case was later thrown out.

Whitney chose not to visit her dad on his death bed in 2003, only seeing his body in private and then avoiding the funeral.

Addiction

She was so intent on not ending up divorced like her parents that she stuck with her marriage to Bobby for 14 years – despite him hitting her and sleeping with other women.

While Bobby did take drugs with the troubled singer, his real addiction was to alcohol. But he had to contend with some of the consequences.

In the TV documentary Being Bobby Brown, Bobby discusses using his fingers to help wife Whitney Houston with her constipation. "That turd was too big!" he cried at one point.

And Whitney's brothers admit that they had more to do with her cocaine and cannabis abuse than her husband.

Gary, 61, who was kicked off a basketball team for allegedly failing a drugs test, said they took "a lot every day. Shit that usually kills motherf***ers, and we keep rocking."

He added: "Bobby was a f***ing lightweight when it came to drugs. We used to pass Bobby by lapping him. Trust me."

Michael confessed to "graduating" from cannabis to cocaine with his sister, with him being the first of the pair to try it.

He added that he would go out and buy drugs for her when they were on tour, thinking it was just part of life in the 1980s.

The brother concluded: "Little did we know, straight-up killer."

Bobby and Whitney's divorce in 2007 certainly did not lead to her living a cleaner life.

She smoked so much crack cocaine that her teeth fell out – and she chose to hide away at her house in Atlanta, Georgia.

As her poor state of health became more obvious during public appearances and bad performances, her managers insisted she went into rehab.

Many friends believed she was starting to get her act together during her final two years.

But the coroner's report showed she had a cocktail of drugs in her system and had taken cocaine prior to her death in the bath.

Tragically, whatever Whitney's demons were, she never managed to conquer them.

Europe spends £1MILLION 'sexing up' potatoes

BARMY: The EU
HQ in Brussels

THE EU is poised to spend more than a MILLION POUNDS of taxpayers' money on a madcap Irish scheme to sex up... POTATOES!

Bord Bia, Ireland's food board, is concerned that millennials are turned off from scoffing spuds because they wrongly think potatoes are unhealthy.

It has applied for the £1m grant to "sex up" the spud using social media such as Instagram to target potential younger customers.

The bid – which will be decided upon by Brussels pen-pushers in October – has courted controversy as more than 97% of the Irish admit loving potatoes.

The problem is young people buy far less spuds than older people, leading to fears that the potato farming industry could be hit hard.

A Bord Bia report says: "People are consuming potatoes on average more than three times a week.

By WENDY THOMAS
news@sundaysport.co.uk

"But younger millennials and Generation Z cohorts are likely to consume rice and pasta more frequently than previous generations, gravitating towards these other carbohydrates in particular for their perceived convenience and health properties."

The report says the health properties of spuds are not understood by young people who believe they have more fat and calories than other carbs.

A MAN being treated in hospital with high-tech atom medicine sparked a full-scale nuclear alert when he PISSED in his back garden – and turned it into a radioactive DISASTER ZONE!

The patient self-discharged from hospital after receiving radiotherapy involving medicine containing radioactive isotopes.

The official report said after returning home he “urinated outside” and contaminated “the rearyard”.

Experts with Geiger counters turned up and were horrified to find the man’s innocent tinkle had irradiated the ground.

A Chernobyl-style exclusion zone was set up while turf and soil was removed by highly-trained workers.

Isolation

The spoil was then taken to a special tip, where it was encased in lead and concrete.

Meanwhile, the patient was rushed back into hospital and placed in an isolation ward until the radioactive material had worked its way out of his system.

By HAZEL GROVE
news@sundaysport.co.uk

The incident was highlighted as the Liberal National Party in Queensland, Australia, opposed using nuclear technology to produce electricity.

Opponents of an expansion of Australia’s nuclear industry cite safety as a major concern.

Laws in Australia currently ban nuclear power and there are mega-strict controls on radioactive material used in industry and medicine.

Woman repo man-handled

A TOW truck driver was arrested after he twatted a woman in the face after trying to repossess the vehicle that she, her two kids and a dog were in.

But the failed repo attempt by Mohaned Zyoud (below), 23, on July 18 got him charged with attempted malicious wounding, assault and battery, and hit and run, according to the police.

Cops said they found Zyoud a short while after the incident and hauled him off to the lock-up.

He was held on a £17,000 bond and later released on his own recognisance, said a police spokeswoman in Woodbridge, Virginia.

“It’s all just a huge misunderstanding,” said a man identifying himself only as the manager of A&A Towing and Recovery, which employs Zyoud.

Ekaterina had been a beauty pageant contestant in Moscow as well as qualifying from the prestigious Pirogov Russian National Research Medical University.

Her Instagram account in the name of Katty has 80,000 subscribers. She also worked as a medic in a hospital in the city.

Fans said she had a likeness to the late British actress and fashion icon Audrey Hepburn.

Her parents became concerned when Ekaterina stopped answering their phone calls.

Police are examining her love life for clues about her killer, according to reports citing law enforcement sources.

It is known that she had recently broken up with a 32-year-old lover and started a new relationship with an older man.

Fireman's bathroom perv cam

A FIREMAN is facing voyeurism charges after allegedly installing cameras in his bathroom to spy on his female roommate.

Steven Brandenberger (above) has been held on charges of eavesdropping and video voyeurism.

The 38-year-old, of Seminole County, Florida, has now been suspended from the Orange County Fire Rescue department.

The alleged victim told police a friend of hers was using her bathroom and noticed one of the cameras in an air vent.

He sent her a photo of the camera, but when she returned home the camera was gone and a hole left behind, she told police.

The affidavit says: "Inside this hole were wires which attached to more wires that led into the attic. There was also what looked like a microphone or small camera in the hole which she disconnected and took out."

Brandenberger is currently being held at in custody without bail.

£3m of rhino horn seized at airport

CUSTOMS officials in Vietnam have confiscated 125 kilos of rhino horn worth a staggering £3.2 million.

Authorities reported that the 55 pieces of horn were concealed inside plaster blocks in an air shipment.

The shipment was marked as non-taxable material when it arrived at Hanoi airport in a bid to avoid a customs check.

Vietnam and China are frequent destinations for trafficked rhino horns.

Many Asiatic halfwits, mired in generations of backwards superstition, believe the horns can be used to cure various illnesses from cancer to floppycock.

But there is no proof of any medicinal benefit from the horns, which are made of keratin, the same component found in human hair and nails.

Heidi shows us her bare KLUM!

SUPERMODEL Heidi Klum shows off her cheeky side as she wiggles her bum in a video.

The beauty was making light after her dress appeared to have ripped, showing her rear.

Heidi, 46, posted the video on her Instagram feed and simply captioned the footage: "Woopsy".

Socialite Paris Hilton was a fan of the cheeky display, commenting a fire emoji on social media.

However, some people were not impressed with Heidi's antics.

"Why?" one killjoy asked, as another twat wrote: "How old are you?"

Cops claim he used an electric saw and also munched heart & lung

A MAN accused of eating his ex-girlfriend's brain, heart and lung after cutting open her skull with a saw has called the case against him "bull crap".

Joseph Oberhansley, 38, is accused of stabbing Tammy Jo Blanton, 46, to death at her home after he broke in.

The so called "cannibal killer" had previously admitted to the crimes including "cooking a section of her brain and eating it" after his arrest in Jeffersonville, Indiana.

But Oberhansley has since called allegations against him "all bull crap lies" and insists he is innocent.

He reportedly used an electric jigsaw to open Miss Blanton's skull and scoff parts of her brain.

He also allegedly ate part of the 46-year-old's heart and a lung.

Tammy Jo's allegations he had raped her the weekend before her murder were more "bull crap lies", he said.

In a 10-minute rant at a pre-trial hearing at Clark County Court, Oberhansley claimed his ex-girlfriend was "getting high and drunk and texting a bunch of bull crap".

Oberhansley also told the judge that he had uncovered new evidence that pointed to his innocence.

He claimed detectives had missed the murder weapon as it could not have been the 'cheap little knife' they found.

The judge cautioned him to save his comments for his trial.

THE WORLD FAMOUS AGONY Page

Dear Ashleigh,

I WALKED into the kitchen the other day and was confronted with my wife naked from the waist down with one foot on a chair playing with herself.

You might not think that unusual, but she was sliding the neck of a wine bottle in and out of her fanny.

I wouldn't have minded, but it was a bottle of my best and very expensive wine club claret.

I think she could have used something a bit more common, don't you? Like a supermarket plonk or something.

She made the neck of the bottle all wet and slimy with her fanny-batter and when I pulled the cork and poured some of the wine, it had a funny taste.

HG, Hants

Ashleigh says...

STOP whining or she'll pull your cork for good!

Dear Ashleigh,

I'M a driver for a timber company and recently took some fencing to some stables where there was a tasty stable girl in her early 20s.

With her firm arse encased in jodhpurs, I couldn't take my eyes off her.

She must have noticed because she led me to an empty stable where she kissed me grabbed my knob.

She soon had it out and sucked me off until I spurted into the hay.

I pulled down her jods and buried my face in her shaven quim.

Before long my knob was back in business and I took her doggy-style.

When I got back to the yard I found that the stables had ordered more timber and so I had a repeat performance the very next day.

She says she wants to whip me into shape.

What do you think she means?

TG, North Yorks

I don't think I'm ready for a dildo in my ass!

Dear Ashleigh,

ME and my wife love to watch porn when we're having sex at home.

We have been happily married for six years and I'd say that our physical relationship just keeps getting better and better.

Our favourite thing at the moment is we like to turn the lights down low and whack the volume of a porno on full blast as we act out what we're seeing on our 60-inch TV.

I've got all the proper speakers attached and the moans and groans coming from the porn stars on screen seem to pop up all over the room sometimes!

It's like being in the middle of an orgy, when me and the wife start shagging, too.

Just the other day the missus came into the living room with a college girl outfit on and I knew I was in for a real treat.

Even though I was watching cricket and enjoying a couple of beers, I flicked it off for her and selected a filthy movie.

And I was delighted to see a woman being gently spanked, for being naughty.

Needless to say my girl assumed the position across my knee and I spanked her bum as she squealed in delight.

But the problem is, she spotted a new film called Dildo Your Man In The Ass. I'm not too keen on that, what should I do?

MM, south London

WELCOME to the World famous Sport Agony page! No other newspaper's agony aunts can offer the level of advice – or experience – than our own Agony Angels! This week ASHLEIGH GEE has been reading through your letters. And here's her advice for you...

Boyfriend let-down led to my first lesbian sex

Dear Ashleigh,

I'M a 22-year-old beautician and I had my first lesbian experience the other day after my boyfriend stood me up on a date.

I'd really gone to a lot of effort for our night out. I was wearing my sexiest lingerie, which was all black and lacy, including my suspender belt.

Over that, I had on a very short and tight black dress which could barely contain my 36DD curves.

Anyway, after waiting for more than two hours for him to turn up, I jumped to my feet when I finally heard a knock on my door.

But I was incredibly disappointed when it turned out to be the two young women who had just moved into the flat next to mine.

They had brought two bottles of wine with them and were wondering if I would like to join them for a drink as a kind of welcoming thing.

Well, I invited them in and we'd soon polished off their two bottles and moved on to a third as I told them what a bastard my boyfriend had been that night.

It was at this point that one of them started to gently stroke my head as she told me what a fool my fella was for letting down such a "beautiful creature".

I don't know if it was the wine, or the fact I was so pissed off with my fella, but I suddenly started to feel horny as she ran her fingers through my blonde hair.

And I could definitely feel my pussy starting to moisten as her pal started to caress my stockinged thigh.

I think at that point I let out a little moan of pleasure – and the pair of them seemed to take it as a signal.

The girl who had been stroking my hair moved in to part my lips with her tongue as her pal moved her hand up to my panties and started to massage my clitoris.

Soaking

Within minutes they'd managed to get me out of my dress and laid me back on a rug on the floor.

It felt wonderful as one slowly parted my legs before lowering her head to thrust her tongue into my soaking wet vagina.

Her friend was licking and nibbling on my nipples as she gently placed her fingers in my mouth for me to suck on.

Very soon I was screaming in ecstasy as I orgasmed. I was so turned-on that I suddenly felt the urge to taste a woman, something I had never even dreamed about doing.

So I got one of the girls on the sofa, pulled off her panties, parted her legs and got my tongue to work on her clit and glistening labia, enjoying the taste as well as her moans of delight as I licked her intimately, and her pal did the same to me from behind.

But it was at this point that my boyfriend burst into the room, as I'd forgotten to lock the door.

Now he wants to split up with me and I'm devastated.

What should I do?

TJ, Cornwall

Dear Ashleigh,

Nurse nookie was ideal cure for ills!

Dear Ashleigh,

I'm a normally healthy 30-year-old bachelor but for several weeks now I felt so tired all the time that I could hardly get out of bed for work in the morning.

My GP was puzzled by my condition, too, and told me to pop along and see his nurse who would take a blood sample.

That was fine by me because she is absolutely gorgeous with a fabulous figure almost bursting out of her tight white uniform.

For some reason she couldn't get the needle into a vein in my arm so she asked me to drop my trousers instead.

I was horrified – because I wasn't wearing any undies at the time, but she just said she'd seen it all before.

I did as I was asked but I was even more embarrassed when I got a giant stiffy.

Totally unfazed, she took hold of it and began wanking me off!

Then she slipped down her panties and inserted my throbbing member inside her.

She was a really excellent f**k and it felt so erotic – having sex with a nurse in the surgery, knowing someone might walk in on us at any moment!

We did it quickly, standing up, and I had no trouble giving a sample this time.

And amazingly the next day my tiredness had completely gone.

What do you think of that?

GH, Oxon

#MY SEX FANTASY

'I climax as several guys take turns to have sex with me!'

...WITH ANGEL
WICKY, 30

FROM

MY wildest fantasy is to be blindfolded, then devoured by complete strangers at an orgy.

At the moment, it's all I think about when I'm about to orgasm!
I would go to one of these sex clubs where anything goes. I've never done anything like that. It would be such a naughty thrill.

I'd be dressed up for the occasion in a sexy little number – a skin-tight, short strappy nude-coloured dress showing plenty of boobage. Underneath I'd wear stockings and suspenders.

In my fantasy I mingle a little at the bar first and, knowing my plan, I have a little perv at all the sexy guys and girls around me and wonder who I might soon be getting naughty with without knowing who they are.

I go upstairs, or wherever, to the area for getting intimate. Before I enter I place my blindfold on, and open the door, then someone takes my outstretched hand and guides me to an extra-large bed and lays me down.

Finger

Next thing I know I can feel hands caressing me. I detect two, then four, then six, then I lose track. They're running their hands across my tits and then someone gets them out.

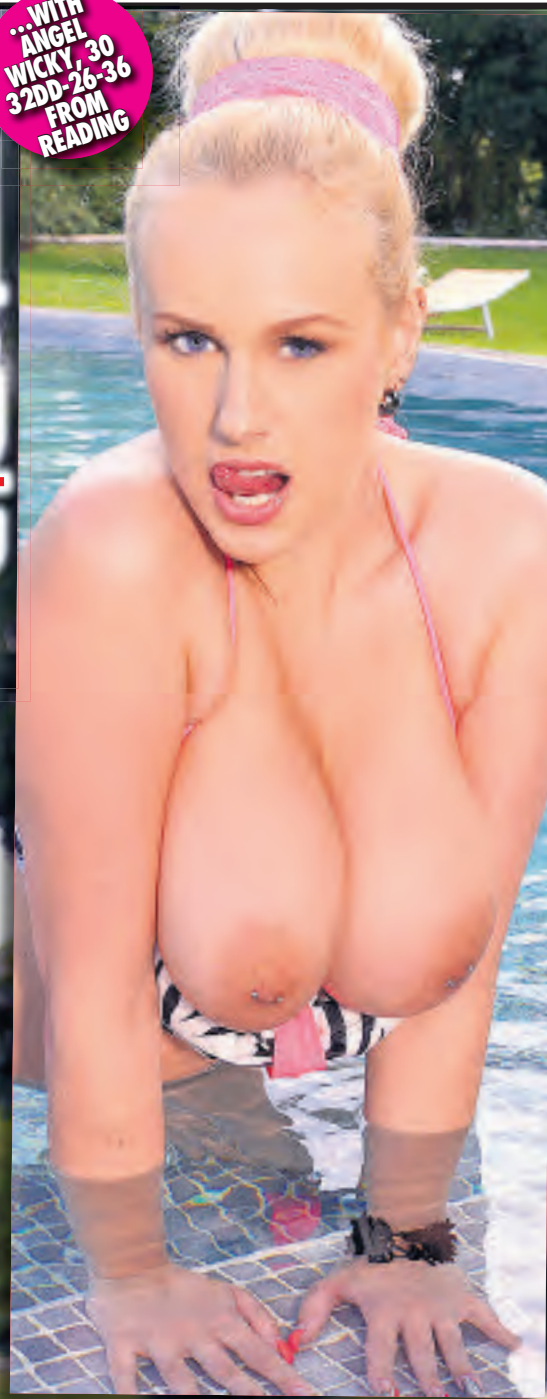

Next, someone strokes my thighs and a finger enters my pussy. I moan in delight.

Then there's a hard cock in mouth. I eagerly suck it. Someone is going down on me and it feels amazing. I don't know if it's a guy or a girl!

There's a different tongue flicking across each of my nipples. I'm in ecstasy. Then someone flips me over on to all fours. I'm just there with my legs open, hungry for cock!

One dick penetrates me, while someone else snogs me. I climax as several guys take turns to pound me from behind as cocks are being thrust in my mouth.

Shagging men whose faces I haven't seen feels so taboo! It's such a turn-on because it feels so filthy!

TERESA MAY

By SIMON DEAN

simon@sundaysport.co.uk

IT'S not often that our Prime Minister gets mixed up with a glamour model, but that's what happened when Theresa May became PM.

Because her near-namesake, Teresa May, is one of the all-time glamour greats.

Teresa May was born on December 15, 1966, in Surrey. Her real name is Teresa Betteridge, but she had switched surnames long before Theresa May became Prime Minister.

Standing just 5ft 3ins tall, she has starred in films such as Nude and Naughty (1998), Petticoat Passion Volume 1 (2001), and Lesbian Student Nurses (2000).

Classic

But her most famous video outing is Teresa Takes 10 Inches – which remains a classic.

The 32G glamour babe has been seen on the pages of Sunday Sport since the early Nineties.

In 1997, she appeared in the music video for The Prodigy's single Smack My Bitch Up.

She moved into acting in B movies Exterminator City (2005) and One Man and His Dog (2004).

Her own website, www.officialteresamay.com, reminds fans: "Teresa May Official website, not to be confused with Theresa May the former UK Prime Minister."

Don't miss out on a triple sex treat!

HOLD onto yer hats... and anything else that comes to hand...cos we've got a real treat for you today!

Every Sunday Sport reader who goes along to a Private Shop this week will get not ONE, not TWO but THREE FREE sex films on DVD!

Amazing, right? Amazing but true! Britain's leading chain of sex shops is working in partnership with your favourite newspaper to bring you the sort of offers you're really interested in.

In every issue of the Sport will bring you a new offer, be it free

By NEIL GOODWIN
neil@sundaysport.co.uk

DVDs and toys or unbeatable money off offers.

To get your copies of The Business, The Small Delights Of Koreena and All Pleasure No Pain all you have to do to collect your FREE XXX sex films is turn up at one of the Private Shops listed on this page with a copy of the Sport (any edition will do). There is no minimum purchase and no hidden charges!

Amazing

This amazing triple bill, which comes on one disc for your convenience, is jam-packed with full-on sex from some of the hottest young talent in the business.

But be warned, this is not faked sex but actual footage of horny young people having actual penetrative sex to completion.

And remember, it's 100% FREE when you call in at your local Private Shop.

If you can't make it to one of the shops then you can still get your films by using the credit card line or by using the coupon below.

But don't mess about, this offer won't be around forever...we can't afford it, for one thing!

And don't miss another amazing offer in Wednesday's Midweek Sport.

SHOW ME THE HONEY!

WELCOME to the interactive Midweek Sport - where YOU get to choose the stunnas appearing on these pages!

That's right fellas, we publish sexy snaps of the babes you most want to see - TOPLESS or even NAKED.

Every Wednesday, Show Me The Honey features the cute curves of the glamour girls you're clamouring for. This service - UNIQUE to British newspapers - is totally FREE!

Just drop us an email to request@sundaysport.co.uk telling us why you want to see your favourite girl, then sit back and let us do the rest.

ARIA GIOVANNI

RETIRED chippy owner Neil Fitzpatrick has his eyes on glamour girl Aria Giovanni.

Neil, 62, from Blackpool, sold his chip shop three years ago and said ogling the babes in the Midweek Sport makes his days brighter.

However, his favourite is 37-year-old Aria, from Tooting, south London - thanks to her impressive 34D whoppers.

He said: "I do get bored now I've packed work in but I look forward to reading the Sport three times a week.

"Can I see a topless picture of Aria in the meantime? Cheers!"

DESTINY DUNES

SHOP owner Usman Arshad is hoping Destiny Dunes might pop in for some milk one day.

Usman, 39, is from north London and said he's waiting for his dream day when the 26-year-old model comes into his place.

He said: "I work in a local shop and I know glamour girl Destiny is now living around here.

"I love to flick through the Sport when I'm opening up in the morning.

"One day, she might pop in but I'm not sure what I'd do - probably just stare at her 34GG boobs and try to pick my jaw off the floor!"

ELLA McPARLAND

SALES manager David Barnes reckons his gift of the gab could work wonders on Ella McParland.

The 47-year-old, from Newcastle, asked for a sexy snap of Scouse fancy Ella, 29, with her 32D boobs on show.

He said: "I sell cars all day, everyday, and I've got the chat to sell an igloo to an Eskimo.

"So I'd hope if I ever met Ella I'd chat her into bed.

"Until then though, I'm more than happy with a saucy snapshot - she's a real fitty!"
